The tax status of distributions for a tax year depends on the Company's total amount of taxable income for the year, therefore, the tax status cannot be confirmed until after the end of the tax year. Accordingly, the Company's distributions for the tax year may be recharacterized later based upon subsequent events. As applicable, the Company reports the actual tax character of its distributions for U.S. federal income tax purposes annually to stockholders on Internal Revenue Service Form 1099-DIV issued after the end of the year. The Company's 2023 Form 10-K will also include information regarding the actual components and tax treatment of all the Company's distributions for the fiscal year 2023.
